CENTRAL AMERICA.

WASHINGTON Oct. 20.—Geo Williamson our minister to Guatemala writes the treasury department that there seems to be a disposition on the part of the governments of Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua to increase the facilities of communication on the Carribbean sea. The government of Guatemala is trying to make a contract with the West India Auxiliary British Company to touch once more at Port Santa Tomas in the Gulf of Honduras. It has a large number of laborers under charge of its highest military officials at work on the road to Santa Tomas which the prime minister says will be completed in time to forward articles to our Centennial by that route. It has sent an agent to the United States to bring a steamer for the river Motogua, which empties into the bay of Honduras. The government of Honduras has leased its railroad from Puerto Cortez to San Perdo to two parties with extraordinary privileges. Minister Williamson ends his letter as follows: These facts seem to indicate a present disposition on the part of all the governments but that of Salvador, to obtain facilities for communication through Carribbean ports. No doubt this is in part due to the revival of old ideas and in part to what is understood to be dissatisfaction with the high rates of the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. Should the plans succeed and trade be partly turned in the lines of the new communication, the result cannot fail to be detrimental to our country. If our countrymen choose to avail themselves of the proximity of San Francisco I think they would not lose anything and our great commercial lines on the Atlantic and Gulf ought to increase their trade with Central America very considerably. Should communication be opened and kept open it is likely immigration will be invited without which in the judgment of all impartial minds native and foreign in these countries their progress must continue to be very slow.

DECISION IN THE UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT BY JUSTICE FIELD

In the Circuit Court of the United States of the Ninth Judicial Circuit and District of Oregon

[illegible] Adair [illegible] W. P. Burke and others.

Two actions of ejectment were brought by the plaintiffs, each for a portion of the demanded premises against the tenants in possession. The landlords having appeared in both the actions have been consolidated. The premises constitute the west half of lot four of block eighteen in the city of Portland. The plaintiff traces title to them from the children and grand children of Daniel H. Lownsdale, who had in September 1852 by previous settlement upon land which includes the premises and continued residence thereon, and cultivation acquired a right to a patent of the United States under the act of congress of September 27 1850 known as the donation act. The defendants controvert the claim of title by the plaintiff and assert an adverse possession twenty years under claim and color of title, in bar of the action.

By the fourth section of the donation act a grant of land was made to every white settler or occupant of the public lands in Oregon above the age of eighteen years who was a citizen of the United States or had made a declaration according to law of his intention to become a citizen or should make such declaration on or before the first day of December 1851 and who was at the time a resident of the territory, or might become a resident on or before the first day of December, 1850 and who should reside upon and cultivate the land for four consecutive years and otherwise conform to the provisions of the act. The grant was of 320 acres of land if the settler or occupant was a single man but if a married man or if he should become a married man within a year from the first of December, 1850 then the grant was of 640 acres, one half to himself and the other half to his wife to be held by her in her own right. The surveyor general of the United States was required to designate the part of the land thus granted inuring to the husband and the part inuring to the wife and enter the same on the records of his office and the act declares that, in all cases where such married persons complied with the provisions of the act so as to entitle them to the grant whether under the preceding provisional government or subsequently, and either should die before the patent issued the survivor and children or heirs of the deceased should be entitled to his or her share or interest in equal proportions, except where the deceased should otherwise have disposed of the same by will.

At the time of the passage of this act Daniel H Lownsdale was of the class of persons designated who were entitled to the benefit of its provisions, he was a settler in Oregon and had been for years and he was a citizen of the United States and he was either a married man or became so within a year from the first of December, 1850. He had settled upon land now covering a large portion of the city of Portland, and he at once became a claimant under the act dating the commencement of his settlement on the 22d of September, 1848. This settlement was followed by his continued residence and cultivation up to September 22, 1852 the period of four years prescribed by the act. Due proof of this residence and cultivation was made to the surveyor general and by him the land was assigned to the husband and wife in equal proportions, the east half to the husband and the west half to the wife. The premises in controversy lie within the portion assigned to the husband.

In October, 1860 a patent certificate was issued in favor of Lownsdale and wife by the register and receiver of the land office in Oregon in the usual form and containing recitals of the claim asserted by Lownsdale of a donation right and that proof had been made of the commencement of the settlement and of the subsequent continued residence and cultivation required by the act. The certificate accompanied by evidence of the facts recited was forwarded to the commissioner of the general land office at Washington, in order that a patent might issue thereon, if no valid objection was made to it. No objection so far as we are informed was made to the certificate or to the sufficiency of the accompanying evidence and in June, 1865 a patent of the United States was issued to Lownsdale and wife, in terms granting to them the property claimed, the east half to Lownsdale and the west half to his wife. Both husband and wife died before the patent issued intestate the wife in April 1854 the husband in May, 1861.

Where as in the present case there had been a previous settlement the act of congress vested the title in the settler immediately upon its passage. The act is a grant in praesenti. Its language is—"that there shall be and hereby is granted" to the settler or occupant language which imports an immediate transfer of the interest of the grantor not a promise to transfer that interest at a future period. But it is a grant subject to the conditions of continued residence and cultivation of four years from the settlement. If these conditions had not already been performed on the passage of the act they were to be performed subsequently. Until performed the estate granted was defeasible; when performed the estate became indefeasible.

When the certificate of the Register and Receiver was received by the commissioner and accepted by him as satisfactory the right of Lownsdale and of his wife to a patent was perfected. The estate as already observed, passed by the act; the patent which the United States subsequently issued was record evidence on the part of the government furnished for the security and protection of the donees or their successors in interest, of the settlement of Lownsdale and of the performance of the conditions annexed to the grant, and of the due assignment to him and to his wife of their respective portions; but it had no other or greater operation upon the title. "In the legislation of congress," said the supreme court in a recent case, "a patent has a double operation. It is a conveyance by the government when the government has any interest to convey; but where it is issued upon the confirmation of a claim of a previously existing title, it is documentary evidence having the dignity of a record of the existence of that title or of such equities respecting the claim as justify its recognition and confirmation. The instrument is not the less efficacious as a record of previously existing rights because it also embodies words of release or transfer from the government." (Hanes v. Langdeau 21 Wall.)

Upon the death of the wife in 1854 intestate she not having previously transferred her interest her portion of the land that is the west half vested under the act of congress in the surviving husband and her children in equal shares. No patent had then issued and the act declares who shall in such case succeed to the estate of the deceased.

Upon the death of the husband intestate in 1861 not having previously disposed of his interest his portion of the land that is the east half vested in his children under the act in equal shares. The estate took this course by the express direction of the act.

But whether the children thus took a new title from the government or only succeeded under the statute to such title as the wife in her existence and the husband in the other had acquired, is one of the questions [illegible] in the case. The plaintiff contends that the children took a new title as donees under the statute on the death of their father in May 1861 and if this be the case there can [illegible] have been adverse possession sufficiently prolonged to bar the action. The statute requires such possession to be continued for twenty years.

The defendants contend that the children only succeeded to the estate of the deceased and that an adverse possession commenced against him whilst living can be tacked on the [illegible] holding so as to make the statutory period of twenty years.

It is not important for the decision of the present [illegible] which view of this question be correct. As the district judge and myself have differed in opinion in another case, upon the question whether a conveyance by a donation claimant after he had acquired by his settlement residence and cultivation a right to a patent and, before the patent was issued passes the estate, a decision of which would determine the question here involved, and as that case will be carried to the supreme court I refrain from expressing an opinion upon the point raised here. This case as I already said can be determined without passing upon that point.

The defendants show a continuous possession of the premises upon and [illegible] since 1851, but this possession has not been in my judgment during this period for twenty years adverse to the title of the plaintiff. To render a possession adverse it must be hostile in its origin and hostile in its continuation. The entry upon the premises must be made and the possession must be accompanied with claim of title against the whole world. In other words the occupant must assert ownership in himself. An entry by permission of another with an admission of another's title will not set the statute running and a recognition of another's title after the statute has commenced running at any time within the twenty years no matter for how brief a period will destroy the continuity of the hostile possession and avoid the bar of the statute.

In the present case Pettygrove, the party through whom the defendants derive what ever interest they possess, went into possession not claiming title in himself but asserting as was the fact that the title was in the United States and neither he nor his grantees have at any time since pretended that the fact was otherwise, or that they have ever acquired that title. On the contrary the defendants one of whom Burke has occupied the premises by himself or tenants for the greater part of the last twenty years, instituted legal proceedings as late as January 1871 in one of the state courts to compel a transfer to them of the legal title to the premises from the heirs of Daniel H Lownsdale asserting in the complaint in the case verified by the oath of Burke that such legal title was in them, and had been acquired by their ancestor, Daniel H. Lownsdale by the proceedings taken upon his alleged settlement and the patent of the United States and setting forth sundry acts and agreements by which they contended that the heirs were bound to hold the title in trust for them, and asking a decree that the heirs might be declared trustees for their benefit.

That complaint is an admission of the highest character—a sworn statement,—that the defendants did not hold the premises by a claim of title hostile to the title of the plaintiff but with a recognition of that title and an assertion of some equitable right to have that title transferred to them.

It is too plain for argument that there was here no such adverse possession of the premises as is contemplated by the statute. If the defendants have any equities which should control the legal title they must seek to enforce them in some appropriate form. The state court it would seem did not think they had any. Be that as it may a possession with a claim of an equitable right to another's legal title to the premises is not a possession adverse to the existence of that title but a possession with a continued recognition of its validity.

A general finding must be had for the plaintiff, and judgment entered thereon for the possession of the premises with costs.

NASBY AS A FINANCIER

THE EX-POSTMASTER CONTINUES TO VENTILATE INFLATION—HE STARTS FOUR NEW BANKS—THE ULTIMATE RESULT OF INFLATION—EVERY MAN WILL EVENTUALLY BE HIS OWN BANKER

[From the Toledo Blade.]

CONFEDRIT X ROADS (WICH IS IN THE STATE UV KENTUCKY), September 11, 1875.—The man wich undertakes to benefit his fellows loads up a very heavy contrack. Half the citizens uv the Corners are a goin back in the most ingrateful manner onto the Onlimited Confidence and Trust Company. They are a gettin $1[illegible] a bushel for wheat and about the same for oats and corn and men now talk uv thousands wich never before knowd how to pronounce the word, but yet they aint happy. They hev a hankerin after redempshun uv some sort—they demand to know when this money uv ourn is agoin to be redeemed in suthin else—some other kind uv money—ez tho our money, backed by faith, wuznt ez good ez any in the world. Ef these malcontents wood only take it and look pleasant there woodent be any trouble about it.

But these men are not the worst we hev to contend with. The citizens wich are the stanchest supporters uv the new money hev determined that, ef we hev the rite to ishoo money, they hev the same rite. And so four new banks hev bin started this week.

Mackey and Burns started one, with Mackey ez president and Burns ez cashier, with them and a nigger carpenter ez the boord uv directers. They hev got the drop on us by requirin the officers to give bonds wich they accomplished by hevin Mackey sign Burns' Burns sign Mackey's and both sign the nigger carpenter's. Then they hev another advantage over us for they bought their own press and print their own notes wich ez we hev to pay Simpson, the printer, a profit enables them to make money cheeper than we kin. They call their institooshun "The Nashnel Benefit Assosiashen," and hev the bankin offis in Mackey's bedroom in the Pogram House.

Scarsely wuz this bank histin out monny afore Squire Pettus and Gedney the shoemaker, started another wich they called "The Blessin Diffusion Bank uv North Ameriky," with the offis in Gedney's shoeshop and they got ahead uv us by printin their notes in two colors, which I must say, gives em a solvent look.

By this time wheat hed got up to $20 a bushel, and wuz scase at that.

Then Parkins and Barney the plasterers who hed made a great deal uv money since inflashun set in they hed to start a bank which they called "The Equitable and Insoshable Bankin Company uv the Yoonited States," and they issued their bills by the bushel.

Wheat went up immediately to $38 per bushel, and a new era of prosperity set in.

Before these financiers hed got fairly under way Butts and Bustered concluded they'd go into bankin and behold one mornin the bills uv the "Labor Stimyoolatin Company—I Butts, President"—made their appearance. They didn't hev any offis, for Butts said he didn't see no use of an offis. He could pay out money on the street all he wanted to ef the people would take it, and as it never wuzn't goin to be redeemed what did he want of an offis? He wuzn't a goin to any such expense, for he believed in economizin. To go to yooselis expense wuz to show a culpable disregard uv the interests of the people. Wheat went up to $45 per bushel and there wuz more prosperity.

Then troubles set in in chunks. The people who wuz not interested in bankin refoozed point blank to take any uv their ishoos. Banks wuz a gittin rather too frekent, an the times wuz a gitten rather too prosprous. A reakshen akkurd agin our money, wich we who wuz interested determined to crush at wuntz.

The offishuls uv the five banks in the town met and decided to hold a meetin uv the citizens at wich steps shood be taken to legalize our ishoos.

The meetin wuz held and uv course we kerried it without any trouble, for seven tenths uv em hed our money in their pockets and they wuz very favorable to any action that wood keep it a bloomin. To that end we past the follerin resolooshens:

Wareas, The Dimocrisy uv Ohio and Pennsylvany, with a singerly just apprehenshun uv the wants uv the citizens uv the Cross Roads hev demanded more money; and,

Wareas, Dve companies hev kerried out the idee uv the Democrisy uv Ohio and Pennsylvany by furnishin the people more money; and

Wareas, Notwithstandin the onparalleled prosperity that hez resulted from the increase in currency circulation in the community, by refoozing to take it decline to be benefited, therefore be it

Resolved, That this meetin uv citizens demand by the Town Council that it to wunst convene and pass an ordinance makin the ishoos uv the five banks legal tender for every thing from drinks down to taxes, and that any citizen who refoozes to take it or murmurs agin it, or in any way discredits it shel be held ez a public enemy and be immejitly hung.

The whereases and the resolooshun wuz passed to wunst and I felt easier. With the power to hang all wich refooze to take our money I rather think I can make it current. A rope over the limb uv a tree is a persuader of rare merit, and it is the best indorsement uv our paper that we kin possibly hev.

So far so good. But jist ez I wuz feelin good over my success, that onmitigated cuss Jhial Perkins the man wat give his note to Bascom for a barl uv whisky with such distinguished success, rose and sed he hed a series of whereases and a resolooshun to pass. He went on to say that he hed given this question of finance a great deal uv study. He indorsed fully the posishen uv the Dimocrisy uv Ohio and Pennsylvany. He bleeved in more money—money enuff for everybody. He pinted with pride to the developments uv the Corners since the creashun uv more money, and he bleeved that still more money would make still more prosperity. The idea wuz correct. The government shood ishoo promises to pay and faith shood make em good without any sich nonsense ez redeemin, and if the government shood do it, why shoodnt banks, if banks, why not indivijls? That's wat he wanted to know. Ef ther wuz any sich thing ez redeemin it in gold or anything else the people mite hev the rite to ask if them ez ishood the gold or anything else to redeem em with, but ez ther aint no redeemin perposed, why that question don't come in. The people hev to hev faith, and that's all the bevin ther is in the transackshen. He wuz a bleever in more money and he perposed to hev more money, and he bleeved them ez had the greatest need for money shood hev the privilege uv ishooin it and so long as the people took it from each other, it ansered all the perposes uv money and wuz money. Therefore he perposed the yoonanimus adopshun uv the follerin whereases an resolooshen

Wareas, Ef yoo hev a good thing yoo cant hev too much uv it; and,

Wareas, the increase uv currency in the Corners hes bin productive uv prosperity sich ez we never dreemed uv; and

Wareas, It is the duty uv all earthly guvernment to diffoost its blessins ekally, thereby imitatin the doos of heaven which falls alike on the just and unjust; and

Wareas, the manufakter uv money shood not be confined to the few, but shood be the privilege of the many; and

Wareas, We recognize the justis and propriety uv compellin the people to take sich money as may be ishood; therefore be it

Resolved, That every man may ishoo his notes uv hand in sich sums as may soot his interest or convenience and that sich notes shel be legal tender for everything, the same ez the notes ishood by our five bankin institooshuns.

And the d——d ideots absolootly passed the resolooshen without a minit's delay, and they demanded that the Council meet that very nite and pass the ordinance, wich it did.

Ez every last man uv em commenst writin notes to wunst, and buyin and buyin all sorts of things with em, we're liable to have enuff money at the Corners immejitly—ez much as our brethren in Ohio and Pennsylvany wood desire, even.

Everything in the shape of labor has been abandoned for everybody hez gone into the manufactur uv currency, that iz, everybody who kin write. Thank heaven that they never favored skools here—the inability to shed ink is the only limit to our inflashen.

One single result has followed this ordinance, viz: Nobody has nothin to sell. I went into a shoe store yesterday, thinkin to treat myself to a pare of boots, but the dealer hadn't any to sell.

"But I see a hundred pare on the shelves," sed I.

"They hev all bin bought by people over in the next county," says the villin, "they wuz bought for gold. Possibly ef yoo hed gold I cood get one uv em to sell you a pare hisself."

And he sed suthin about bringin a horse to water, but you doodent make him drink.

It is plain to me that more legislashun is a goin to be necessary [illegible] to a certain pint. They took our money but somehow them ez aint a makin it are a little shy uv it.

PETROLEUM V NASBY,

President uv the Onlimited Trust and Confidence Company

P S—More truble. Bascom sez he's got to hev something to go to Looisville with beside our paper, or he'll hev to close. And all the mechanics in the village who hev to buy things in Looisville, are clamorin for suthin they kin buy with, and threaten ef they don't get it to bust things. Wun uv em impudently sed that afore the inflashun period they didn't hev money, but they cood do suthin with what they hed. And the people applauded the disturber.

2d P S—Bascom hez jest come in. The last drop uv likker is gone, and he swears he'll close his bar ef we don't do suthin to wunst. I hev called a meetin of the direktors. Ef Bascom closes we are lost forever. The Corners kin get on with anything but that. I kin get on a while, for I hev a jug in reserve, but Heven help them who is not pervided.

After a short parley he found it impossible to go any further without causing bloodshed so he returned to Salem.

CHLORAL IN SEA SICKNESS.—According to [illegible] M Giraldes who has had very frequently to cross the Channel and always has suffered from sea sickness whenever the sea has been at all rough, states that some recent trials he has made of chloral have proved perfectly successful in preventing this horrid malady, even when the sea has been most tempestuous and all his fellow travelers have been suffering in consequence. He remains on deck sitting quietly, and on one occasion he slept the whole passage during a furious sea. The formula he has found most useful consists of chloral three grammes (forty five grains) distilled water currant syrup of each sixty grammes, and two drops of essence of mint. Of this he took one half immediately on coming on board, and arrived at Dover (England) without any suffering. On the return voyage he took the rest with like effect.

Two companies of the Ninth Regiment belonging to Dodge's expedition have arrived at Fort Laramie from the Black Hills.

The report of the committee of the Northern Pacific Railroad, made to the meeting of the stockholders on the 2d, shows that the patented and certified lands of the company remaining unsold amount to about 000,000 acres, all in Minnesota and Dakota. Bonds to the amount of $20,000,000 have been deposited with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company to carry on the plan of reorganization. The powers of attorney received by the committee make a total of about $20,000,000, or more than five-sixths of the whole, and large additions are being made daily. In conclusion, the committee say that a mortgage of $30,000,000 has been substantially foreclosed, and a reorganization effected in less than six months; 550 miles of the road are now in paying operation, and the property includes a domain of nearly 10,000,000 acres of land and 25,000 more for every mile of new road built, as a basis for future operations.

[illegible] MORNING [illegible]

[illegible] Alaska [illegible] ging that the military officers [illegible] of the laws [illegible] [illegible] interested [illegible] were an oppressive [illegible] In support [illegible] [illegible] English and [illegible] knew nothing [illegible] of the [illegible] what purported to be [illegible] stances [illegible] abuse of power on the part of Major Campbell. As showing how far a little capital can be made to go in certain styles of journalism it is in place to remark that the alleged facts over which the Journal makes so great an ado are the same which about a year ago so excited the [illegible] which fortunes and fame the Journal inherited. It is no fresh charges but the old ones furbished up and given to the public as something new which has been [illegible] through the [illegible] of the Journal.

[illegible] at this late [illegible] congressional election. Coupled with the strong denunciation which this doughty champion of human rights bestows on the [illegible] of the people there is [illegible] expressed [illegible] that all the abuses will be done away with and everything be made lovely as soon as Lafayette Lane goes to Congress. That is the inspiration of the Journal's attacks upon Major Campbell. It is supposed that by doing so a point can be made against the Republican party. The Journal [illegible] its attack [illegible] Howard who [illegible] of Major Campbell [illegible] Howard and founded upon the most [illegible] to Major Campbell. Soon after General Howard took command of this military district these same charges were made and he proceeded to Alaska [illegible] and thorough investigation [illegible] charges were found to be groundless except that Major Campbell had worked the [illegible] same as soldiers under confinement for military offenses. This was an excess of authority committed doubtless through mistake and was a matter of comparatively little importance. General Howard gave such orders as were necessary to remove all cause of complaint and avoid all further trouble in connection with the military administration in Alaska and there the matter rested till this congressional election offered the Democratic organ an opportunity to revive the stale accusations in a new form, for service against Hon Henry Warren. It is questionable whether the officers thus assailed should consider themselves called upon to take any notice of the matter but General Howard desiring that every pretext for complaint may be removed, has thought best to call the attention of his superior General Schofield to it, and has requested that an inspector general be sent to Alaska, and that he take plenty of time and sift the matter to the bottom.

It would be difficult to frame any argument in justification of the course of the Journal in this case. Something is due from a political newspaper to its party but there is something [illegible] reckless and injurious statements concerning gentlemen who have earned high standing in their profession by long and faithful services. It may be remarked further, though it [illegible] that the Journal will prove too much for its political purposes when it proves that he is the merciless tyrant and fiend it has declared him to be; for he is not a Republican, but a straight out old-fashioned Democrat. If there is anything seriously wrong in his conduct in Alaska it is probably attributable to his Democratic views and tendencies.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY.

Readers of the OREGONIAN were informed by telegraph of the result of the election of directors of the reorganized Northern Pacific Railway company, which was held on the [illegible] of September. Through the Eastern papers we have full reports of the proceedings of the meeting of new stockholders and of the first meeting of the new board of directors. The report of the committee appointed [illegible] property [illegible] was read as follows:

The undersigned committee [illegible] the bondholders at their general meeting [illegible] New York [illegible] and comply with the [illegible] [illegible] have acquired title [illegible] the issuing of bonds and stock protecting the [illegible] and generally to do all things necessary for the complete execution of the [illegible] to place the railroad again [illegible] bondholders having attended to the duties [illegible] have briefly to report [illegible] proceedings to date.

[illegible] ated on the 15th of April [illegible] granted and pledged lands [illegible] [illegible] property purchased, and the papers [illegible] thereto [illegible] sale and [illegible] with great care [illegible] their final execution has been delayed [illegible] now. We have [illegible] property purchased [illegible]

Their sale is postponed to such future date as the court may hereafter order. The decree of their sale provides that five per cent of the purchase money shall be paid in cash, and the balance may be paid in the first mortgage bonds of this company. To enable us to [illegible] [illegible] for the purpose of securing [illegible] foreclosure the committee acting under the advice [illegible] the Farmers Loan and Trust Company [illegible] control of the committee for such further use as the [illegible] of the bondholders may demand [illegible] with [illegible] bonds have been deposited with the Farmers Loan and Trust Company for exchange into preferred stock and for otherwise carrying out the objects of the plan of reorganization [illegible] to this date to about $20,000,000. Large daily additions are being made and we have strong and reason to expect that nearly all will eventually come in. No time has yet been fixed limiting their reception. The committee feel inclined to make the time ample for all reasonable [illegible] and will advise holders to send in their bonds at the earliest practicable time.

The powers of attorney received by and authorizing the committee to carry out the plan [illegible] up about $25,000,000 or more than five-sixths of the whole and large additions are being made daily. Without doubt the balance will come forward as little or no cash dividend can be expected by any who may stand out.

In transferring the road and property acquired to the management of your Directors we take occasion to congratulate you upon the rapid success with which we have been enabled to carry out thus far the purposes of our appointment and to thank you for the confidence you have shown in us by promptly responding to our calls for your powers of attorney and the surrender of your bonds. It augurs well for the ultimate success of your magnificent enterprise that your confidence and unanimity have enabled a mortgage of $30,000,000 to be substantially foreclosed and the reorganization completed in less than six months from the [illegible] without any of the usual attendant and consequent litigation.

You have now 550 miles of road in paying operation substantially free from debt and an attaching domain of nearly 10,000,000 acres of land. With this immense extent of unincumbered property as a basis for future operations and the 25,000 and odd acres to be added for every mile of new road built there ought to be little doubt of your ability to [illegible] for the early resumption of work on the extension and completion of the road.

Committee

NEW YORK, Sept 29, '75.

With this report was submitted a letter from the receiver, Gen. Cass, who in passing the property over to the purchasing committee, said he had paid the running expenses of the road promptly, and now turned it over to the purchasers in as good condition as when he received it. He made the following suggestions:

First—The question of assuming the lease of 23 Fifth avenue should have immediate attention. The rent has been paid to date.

Second—The joint interest which the company holds with the Western Union Telegraph Company should at once be utilized by a contract for the working of the line.

Third—Action should be taken to secure some return from the investments made in the Tacoma Land Company and the Lake Superior and Puget Sound Land Company, the controlling interest of both these companies passing to the bondholders as a part of their purchase.

Fourth—The bondholders should await further suggestion from him as to the management of the twenty-five mile branch of the Lake Superior and Mississippi Railroad, connecting the Northern Pacific with Lake Superior and of which they own an undivided half.

Fifth—A compromise should be made with the bondholders of the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company who have begun a foreclosure suit. Nearly all of the share capital of the road is owned by the Northern Pacific Company and the affairs are in an exceedingly complicated condition.

The next business was the election of a board of directors. [The names of the new board were given to our readers on the following day.] At the first meeting of the new directors the organization of the company was proceeded with by the election of officers.

The balloting resulted in the election of C. B. Wright of Philadelphia president; George Stark of Nashua, N. H., vice president; Samuel Wilkeson of New York, secretary; George F. Barbe of New York treasurer and George Gray of Minnesota, counsel. The name of Frederick Billings of Woodstock, Vt., was proposed for president, but he withdrew it on the ground that his health and family duties would not permit him to serve faithfully. Mr. Wright in accepting the position said that he did so pending negotiations for the money to continue the construction of the road and that his tenure of the office would be determined by the result of those negotiations and by the wishes of the capitalists who take hold of the enterprise. His chief desire is to hasten the completion of the Northern Pacific. Mr. Wright is a man of great wealth and has a wide reputation as a railroad man and a financier. He built the road from Erie to Warren, Pennsylvania, was heavily interested in the Philadelphia and Erie and, as president, led the Oil Creek road of Pennsylvania to great prosperity. He has been a director of the Northern Pacific Company from its incorporation and during the presidency of Mr. Cass served as vice president. When Mr. Cass was appointed receiver a few months ago, Mr. Wright was promoted to the presidency of the old management. The executive committee is composed of Frederick Billings, Johnston Livingston, Edwin M. Lewis, Geo. W. Cass and B. P. Cheney.

Concerning the reorganization of the company, and Mr. Billings declining its Presidency, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says:

The Northern Pacific railroad reorganization is now complete. Its bondholders have become its stockholders with a board of directors comprising not only men of ability and [illegible] they want now [illegible] capital for which with 500 miles completed and a moderate continent of land and valuable franchises they offer abundant security, and, second, a man of first class business ability and integrity who is willing to work hard and honestly for five and possibly ten years for the continuation and completion of the great work. His associates in the reorganization and direction earnestly and unanimously urged Mr. Billings of Vermont to take this place for which he has in high degree the necessary qualities but his health and other claims upon his time and strength forbade. It is a great opportunity for the right man to do an important work and make a high reputation.

Among all the various classes who clamor for a depreciated currency the most foolish are those who work for wages. And it is this class which includes the greatest proportion in numbers of the much abused creditor class, as Mr. Schurz very clearly proved in his last speech. In this way:

It has been calculated by good authority that the wage-[illegible] of a half month's service [illegible] the whole country to $1,000,000 [illegible] that plus the deposits in the savings banks amounting to about $750,000,000. Not [illegible] but the laboring people and [illegible] who put their surplus earnings [illegible] It is estimated [illegible] class has in national and private banks and in trust companies another $100,000,000 and that nearly $1,000,000,000 is owing them in [illegible] Here is, then, the sum of about $2,000,000,000 owing to the [illegible] of small means [illegible] savings to that amount. [illegible] you pretend that for their benefit you will expand the currency. Gold being at 15 per cent premium, [illegible] savings have a value of $1,020,000,000 in [illegible] Expand the currency until gold is [illegible] per cent premium, and you have robbed these people of $150,000,000. "ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?"

GILROY, March 1, 187[illegible]

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—In an experience of three years with the Averill Chemical Paint more than one half the jobs have chalked, peeled or cracked off, notwithstanding the Paint was warranted to do neither, and out of sixteen failures the California Chemical Paint Company have refused to furnish Paint to repaint but six of the sixteen. I refer to the following houses that have cracked, peeled and chalked off in this place: James Corey, H. C. Morey, M. D., Thomas Darrough, E. J. Bryant, E. H. Farmer, Frank Oldham, J. H. Trickey, G. Woodward, Thomas Rea, P. Ball, D. Whitney, William Wilson, J. M. Rinkel, F. B. Hitchcock, J. A. Baxter, Music Hall, Catholic Church, and I might mention many more.

J. B. RHINEHART, Painter.

23 POST ST., SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11, 1874.

To Proprietors Chemical Paint Company—Gents: I had my house in Oakland painted with your paint. It was warranted to be good and satisfactory in every respect. I was obliged to have the third coat put on to make it look as if it had been really painted and even then I think one good coat of Lead Paint would have given the house a better appearance. I think you ought to make up to me the loss I sustained, besides the annoyance I felt knowing that an inferior article had been put on when a No. 1 article had been promised. Hoping to hear from you soon on the subject, I remain

Yours resp'y, DR. HENRY KNOX,
Dentist, 23 Post street, San Francisco.

GILROY, Sept. 4, 18[illegible]

To whom it may concern.—Seeing in various papers that the California Chemical Paint Company continue to deceive people by saying that the Averill paint will neither peel, crack nor chalk off, I deem it my duty to say that my house, painted with the above named paint in the fall of 1873 failed in less than eighteen months after being painted by peeling, cracking and chalking off in the worst manner imaginable. I also observe that the company have my name in their printed matter as reference; this was done without my knowledge or consent.

E. J. BRYANT.

GILROY, March, 18[illegible]

To whom it may concern.—My house painted with the Averill Chemical Paint in June 1873 failed in a little over one year after being painted by chalking, peeling, wasting and changing color, some light color, some dark. The California Chemical Paint Company are knowing to this and yet continue to deceive the public by saying that the Averill Paint will not peel, crack nor chalk.

THOMAS DARROUGH.

GILROY, Sept 4, 1875.

To whom it may concern.—My house painted with the Averill Chemical Paint, manufactured by the California Chemical Paint Company of San Francisco about two years ago failed in less than one year after it was painted, by chalking off and changing color, and I had a portion of it repainted.

J. B. TRICKEY.

GILROY, Sept. 4, 187[illegible]

To whom it may concern.—I had my fence painted in the fall of 1873 with the Averill Chemical Paint, which was represented not to chalk, peel or crack off, but it chalked off in three months after it was painted.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 21, 187

CITY.

A SHAMEFUL AFFAIR.—A most disgraceful affair took place yesterday afternoon at the Central school house just after the pupils were dismissed in which two middle-aged married women participated. The difficulty was neither more nor less than a regular fisticuff encounter between a colored woman and a woman of German nativity. The history of the disreputable proceeding is about as follows. Several weeks ago the daughters of the respective families met at a brewery to have a sort of general jollification. During the time they were together the daughter of one family began to talk about the members of the other in no very complimentary manner. By way of recrimination, the girls belonging to the [illegible] family valiantly took up the [illegible] and [illegible] cross stories [illegible] the irreconcilable differences between the children [illegible] a matter of course, communicated to the brothers of the respective families. Bad feelings grew out of the differences and finally led to high words and blows between the boys. The fathers naturally took sides in the family squabble which resulted in a free exchange of no very complimentary terms. Finally the mothers became considerably embittered toward each other culminating in the disgraceful row before mentioned. The children of both the hostile families attend the public schools. Yesterday afternoon the mothers met by some chance at the Central schoolhouse just as the pupils were dismissed. Matters had about reached a white heat between the maternal heads of the belligerent households and it only required the presence of each to create [illegible] did the women meet [illegible] to indulge in very unta[illegible] Words led to blows and soon the combatants were tearing at each other like two infuriated tigresses. During the melee the German woman seized hold of a beer bottle and dealt her sable adversary a heavy blow on one side of the head the force of which smashed the bottle and cut a severe gash in the scalp causing the blood to flow freely. Smarting under the blow the colored woman turned on her antagonist with redoubled fury and was in fair way to get away with her when one of the teachers rushed in and separated the combatants. A temporary [illegible] and the belligerents [illegible] withdrew from the field of action. When and where hostilities are to be renewed we are unable to state. In justice to the teachers and to the credit of the school we will state that the difficulty originated wholly outside and is in no manner whatever connected with the school. All the teachers greatly regret that the disgraceful affair should have occurred in the schoolhouse.

PATIENTS CURED AND DISCHARGED.—Patients are being received at St. Vincent's hospital at the rate of two a day, and there are at present [illegible] inmates provided for at that institution. Notwithstanding persons are being discharged —restored to health—every day, the number of patients continues to augment. A young man named Sanders who came up about two months ago from the Lower Columbia suffering from an ununited fracture of the bones of the leg was discharged on Tuesday morning and returned home. His limb is entirely restored to use so that he can walk without the aid of a cane. Mr John Gillispie who [illegible] about six weeks ago, suffering [illegible] and who for two weeks laid in a state of unconsciousness, was discharged a few days since. His mind has been restored and he had the free use of his limbs. A man [illegible] left the institution a few days ago having recovered from the effects of a very severe scalp wound inflicted over a [illegible] by a ballast bucket falling on his head while he was employed on one of the [illegible]. We are informed that there are a number of [illegible] patients, among whom are [illegible], Johnson Smith and [illegible], who have been subjected to critical [illegible] within the last week that [illegible] and in a way to speedily recover.

[illegible]—Yesterday morning the case of [illegible], accused of the larceny of [illegible] Chas Dolson, on Tuesday [illegible] for preliminary examination [illegible] Reilley. Several witnesses [illegible] in relation to the alleged offense, but the testimony really amounted to [illegible] of substantiating the guilt of the [illegible], the evidence tended [illegible] from any intention to commit [illegible] larceny. It was clearly [illegible] the trial that Brown had taken [illegible] Dolson, and exhibit [illegible] to a number [illegible] he would keep them until [illegible], when he should return [illegible] its rightful owner. This [illegible] the extent of Brown's offending [illegible] to be no criminal intent [illegible] to commit larceny, [illegible] the case and discharged the defendant. Yesterday the grand jury had the case under advisement but there is no doubt but that it will be dismissed on insufficiency of testimony.

[illegible] THE GARRISON.—Gen Howard who arrived here a few days ago from a tour of inspection to the Malheur Indian reservation, stopped at Fort Walla Walla on his return and made a thorough examination of the buildings at the military post with a view of ascertaining what repairs are necessary in order to make the quarters comfortable for the winter. Most of the buildings are greatly in need of [illegible], and men have already been put to work and are [illegible] in putting foundations under the buildings and making new roofs or repairing the old ones. Only $5,000 has been appropriated, and this will not be enough to put the post in good condition but it will be sufficient to greatly improve things. Most of the work done this fall will be on the soldiers' quarters, but the officers [illegible] in many instances, greatly in need of [illegible]. It is not improbable that [illegible] will find it to its advantage to rebuild the whole garrison in another year [illegible] then the less money expended on the old style the better.

VISIT B. EGGLESTON.—A correspondent writing from Albany, N Y, to the Sun, in relation to the number of distinguished embezzlers now confined there in the state penitentiary, says:—"There is Major Virgil B Eggleston, formerly paymaster in the United States army, a very bright fellow not yet middle aged, an excellent accountant and very valuable to the [illegible] contractors, who employ him in their office. He was on duty away out at Portland, Oregon, when his accounts failed to balance by $12,279 40. The facilities for [illegible] was not as good as the army and the official reports. Books lost in [illegible] lost in crossing a river, [illegible] brought balm to many an officer's heart. [illegible] couldn't fix things that way. So, here he is for five years, to be followed by five more if he does not pay the $12,279 40. He has on hand a [illegible] and hopes to get out and [illegible] not deeming it worth while to take a five year [illegible] at $2,455 88 per annum if he can [illegible] out of it."

[illegible] OUT.—Robert Gee a young man [illegible] nineteen years of age employed at the sash and door factory in East Portland, met with a very painful accident on Tuesday afternoon. He was engaged in running a small table circular saw, and inadvertently permitted his right hand to approach too near the dangerous piece of machinery. The saw came in contact with the young man's hand, entering just behind the knuckle joint of the forefinger and [illegible] through his hand in a lateral direction toward the wrist lacerating the flesh in a shocking manner, and inflicting very painful injuries. A surgeon was summoned and the wounds dressed.

SOCIETY ELECTION.—At a meeting of the Ladies' Social Union of the [illegible] church held at the residence of Mrs [illegible], yesterday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President Mrs Olive Clay, vice president Mrs Lamberson, [illegible] Mrs M F Mulkey, treasurer Mrs [illegible] Aiken, board of [illegible] Mrs Moulton, [illegible] Deschamps, Burnell and Sutherland. The first of a series of [illegible] will be given in the basement of the Taylor street church on Tuesday evening [illegible]

[illegible]—Omar Kingsley, the champion horse [illegible] of the world takes a benefit this evening.

BEN RICHARDS.—The steam tugs Ben Holladay and Gen Canby are both lying alongside the [illegible] Company's wharf undergoing repairs. The boiler and machinery of the Brother are undergoing repairs which have long been needed. It will require some days to complete the work and the boat will not be able to proceed down the river before next Monday. The Gen Canby will tow up the bark Rival and before returning it will have some slight repairs made. She will probably go down the river [illegible] morning.

BRIEF NOTES.

Flooded streets.

Election next Monday.

Deeper and deeper grows the mud.

No more dust until next June or July.

Farmers are busily engaged in plowing and seeding.

The steamer City of Salem is almost ready for business.

All the hard class that have infested Salem during fair week are here.

A few more rainy days and the river here will not remain currentless.

A place that needs the attention of the street superintendent—Sixth and Stark streets.

Our usual Salem letter will appear on Saturday. It promises to be full of news items.

Seven hundred and twenty three tons of assorted cargo were brought up on the steamer.

The bark Wm H Besse will sail to day for Hongkong with full cargo and a large number of passengers.

A rough boisterous voyage was experienced by those who came up on the last steamer from San Francisco.

The Willamet Iron Works are turning out a set of machinery for a grist mill to be constructed at Mount Idaho.

The DAILY OREGONIAN can be procured from our carriers in Olympia during the fair and session of the legislature.

Two vessels were seen off the bar bound in as the ocean steamer crossed the bar. The names could not be ascertained.

A Celestial while angling fell from the O S N Co's dock yesterday and was rescued from peril after much difficulty and no little excitement.

Trees are shedding their sere and yellow leaves, and at the same time the clouds are sending down copious quantities of their aqueous stores.

A row of piles has been driven along at the southern end of the O S N Co's wharf for the purpose of protecting the mouth of the Pine street sewer which debouches at that point.

Mr S J McCormick will lecture this evening at Masonic hall for the benefit of St Vincent de Paul Society. A musical entertainment will add materially to the evening's programme.

To night the Turn Verein Society will meet probably for the last time in their present hall. As some very important business is to [be] transacted it behooves all members to be present. The membership is being increased rapidly.

Some months ago a man named Wilson sold his farm out in Powell's valley and went East to permanently reside. He returned here on the Stephens, disgusted with his new home and contented to live in Oregon the remainder of his days.

A cruel joke has been perpetrated on our friend John Crouch by some waggish fellows who have circulated the report that he was lately married. He informs us upon his word of honor that he has not committed matrimony but only wishes it was true.

BOATING NOTES.

The W R T Co's boat Champion makes regular trips up the Wallamet bringing down large quantities of wheat and flour.

The Orient and Occident are still lying at the bone yard, ready for service within an hour's notice.

At present the O S S Co have but two boats making regular trips to points along the upper Wallamet—Bonanza and Success.

The steamers Owyhee and Yakima are running above Celilo. The Tenino is on the ways at Celilo having a new hull constructed.

After having received a complete overhauling the ferryboat Katie Ladd has been relaunched and now lies moored at the foot of J street east side.

The Emma Hayward is still running on the route between here and the Cascades. The Oneonta is lying at the bone yard and will soon be overhauled.

In the course of a month or so the elegant and commodious steamer Dixie Thompson will be withdrawn from the line between the Cascades and Dalles and the Idaho will take her place during the winter.

In a few days the O S S Co's boat the [illegible] which has been lying for several months at the basin Oregon City will be ready for service. The new cylinders cast here have been put in working condition and other repairs made to the machinery. As soon as the river rises she will commence to make trips.

The steamer Vancouver which has been running so long on the Portland Vancouver route has been hauled off temporarily to enable some long needed repairs to be made. She was hauled out on the eastern shore and will be thoroughly overhauled before resuming her regular trips. During the time the [illegible] is undergoing repairs the steamer Otter will take the line.

Mr J D Biles is now engaged in drafting a model for a large steamboat which will probably be constructed the present [illegible] for the O S S Co, for the Yamhill river trade. It has not been definitely decided by the company whether the craft will be built this fall or next spring. The boiler and machinery to propel the Success will be employed on the [illegible] boat.

EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY FOR THE RELIEF OF THE AFFLICTED.

The Surgeons of the National Surgical Institute, located at Indianapolis Indiana, Pacific Branch 310 Bush street, San Francisco, have finally yielded to the many urgent appeals to visit Portland, Oregon, for the benefit of the people of Oregon and Washington Territory. Three or more of the surgeons will be at the Cosmopolitan Hotel, Portland Oregon on the 1st [illegible] 4th 5th and 6th of November 1875. They will have with them a great amount of surgical apparatus, appliances, etc. and competent assistants and workmen to change, fit and make such apparatus as may be required. They will come especially prepared to treat all surgical cases. Paralysis, all kinds of Deformities of the Face, Spine and Limbs. Diseased Joints, Diseases of the Eye, Catarrh, Private Diseases, Piles, Fistula, etc. On account of the great expense attending such a trip they will not make another; therefore all who wish to avail themselves of the advantages of the Institute without the long journey to San Francisco or Indianapolis must do so at this time. No cases will be undertaken without a fair hope of relief. It is needless to say that the institution is entirely responsible and the largest and most popular of the kind in America curing thousands annually. Remember the time and place and come early. Send to the Institute for circular.

Gold Bars [illegible] par.

The high premium at which gold has stood during the summer and fall seasons this year has been a matter of some speculation, and inquiries as to the probable cause are often heard in business circles. [illegible] leading journals at the East assign but one good reason for it outside of the continued speculations which are going on, reducing the supply of cash gold to the smallest limit. The U. S. treasury holds nearly all the gold upon which the market trades and from which it is supplied in the shape of gold notes. These notes as shown in the public debt statement made on the 1st of the present month, are reduced to the very small sum total $[illegible] of which the New York banks hold about $[illegible], while the other, $1,615,000, are scattered throughout the country in the hands of private parties and banking institutions. The price of gold is controlled to a far greater extent by the movements in Wall street than by all other [illegible] the country combined. Though the short interest there is not so large as in former seasons of speculation, there has always been gold enough borrowed in various ways to make the supply of cash gold necessary for the daily settlements extremely limited, and the bonus for its use to correspond with the mercy of fortunate holders. The loaning rate has been high and the showing of the small amount of gold in the treasury has not tended to assure dealers who were short in coin, and their necessities unallayed by hope of a more plethoric treasury, have kept the premium up to an unusual figure throughout the entire season.

Wheat Supply.

The visible supply of wheat in the United States on the 3d inst. was 8,947,384 bushels, against 8,158,729 bush. Sept. 25, 1875, and 9,118,406 bush. Oct. 3, 1874. The receipts at lake ports for the week ending Oct. 7th were 2,167,070 bush. against 1,957,660 bushels the previous week, and 2,614,506 bush. the corresponding week in 1874, and the shipments from thence were 1,611,682 bush against 1,584,203 bushels the previous week, and 1,605,242 bush. the corresponding week in 1874. The receipts at seaboard ports for the same week were 1,052,823 bush., against 1,117,516 bush. the previous week, and [illegible] bush. the corresponding week in 1874. The foreign export clearances from seaboard ports for the same week were [illegible] bush. against 788,544 bush. the previous week and for the last four weeks 3,179,724 bush. against 4,529,631 the corresponding four weeks in 1874 and 5,119,206 the previous four weeks against 4,288,834 bushels the corresponding four weeks in 1874. The amount in transit for the United Kingdom on the 2d ult. was 10,582,024 bushels, against 6,252,872 bushels Sept. 30, 1874. The stock in the principal ports of the United Kingdom on the 1st inst. was probably about double what they were Oct. 1, 1874. The supply in the United Kingdom for the week ended October 2d, including foreign and domestic, was larger than in any week on the last crop year. This has had a tendency to depress prices.

The imports of wheat at Marseilles, France, for the week ended Sept. 18, 1875, were 135,000 quarters, equal to 1,080,000 bushels. The stock of wheat on docks was 222,600 quarters, equal to 1,780,800 bushels.

The arrivals of grain at Danzig for the first half of September were small; export demand light and trade slow. Holders of old wheat were obliged to submit to a concession. New wheat also sold at lower prices. Rye, though of fine and heavy quality, closed lower. Steamer freights were 2s 3d per quarter for London.

The stock of old wheat in Rostock, Germany on the 15th ult. was 40,000 bushels, which was held on speculative account.

Advices from Odessa, 1st-13th September, report the trade in wheat dull, with only about 240,000 bushels changed hands in two weeks, the largest proportion of which was taken by millers for home consumption. Prices of cereals had been maintained as against unfavorable English advices and limited purchases by millers. Supplies of new grain had been unimportant—no more than 18,000 to 30,000 bushels daily.

General Trade

Appears to vary but little from day to day and the situation may be summed up in a few words. Buyers and sellers are both operating with the usual circumspection which has characterized all their operations this season and a continued conservatism as regards the future. There are some men in this community, as elsewhere, who persist in saying that there is no way to push out of the times which they call hard, and of course they do not move a muscle to help the wheel out of the mire. The dry goods trade is regarded by many dealers as quite buoyant, and they are highly satisfied with the business done so far during the season. Groceries generally are firm under a very fair demand for nearly all leading staples. Domestic produce has shown a quiet phase at current rates during the week so far, and though the movement in breadstuffs is quite up to expectations, other products are in no important respects worthy of comment, prices being steady in most lines and showing a firmer and slightly advancing tendency in others.

SEATTLE

Homestead Association.

A Rare Chance for Profitable Investment.

IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE RAPIDLY ACCUMULATING interests and greatly increasing population, property in the city of Seattle is held at prices regarded as exhorbitant, and in order to meet the demands of persons of small means seeking homes, the "SEATTLE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION" has been organized, composed of some of the most responsible men of that section. Tracts of land in the city, and extending to the borders of Lake Washington, have been secured, surveyed and platted, and 3000 lots, 60 feet by 120 feet each, have been placed on the market for distribution, and are now offered for the small sum of $75 for each lot, payable monthly in six installments without interest. A lot is thus placed within the reach of every one who may desire to purchase.

In 1868 Seattle had a population of only 500, now 3000. A large number are daily seeking tenements and find great difficulty in procuring them; though buildings are going up in all directions, the demand is still 5 to 1 more. The city of Seattle is beautifully situated on Elliott Bay, Puget Sound. It has fine natural advantages and great resources, with a most promising future. The three Coal Deposits now being worked with indifferent facilities, by three different companies, called respectively the "Seattle," "Renton" and "Talbot," are producing 500 tons of Coal daily, which does not supply the demand. The manufacture of lumber is also an important and profitable business. Ship building is an active industry, with other mechanical and useful occupations encouraging to the investment of capital and labor. Two opposing lines of Steamships direct to San Francisco, afford unusual facilities for freight and passage every week. Seattle is destined to be the Pittsburgh of the Pacific Coast. Her material resources are inexhaustible. Her Iron, Coal and Timber, the three great commercial staples, alone will make capital tributary to her interests. The valleys of the White, Black and Cedar rivers, tributaries of the Duwamish river, which empties into the harbor of Seattle, will support a large agricultural population.

Lake Washington, 20 miles in length and from 2 to 6 miles wide, is about two miles in a direct line from the waters of the sound. It is the intention of the incorporators of this Association, whose standing in community is a guaranty of square dealing, to open immediately an Avenue 80 feet wide, extending from the bay directly east through the Homestead lands to Lake Washington, in which charming locality will be erected the mansions of her business men. The Avenue will be properly graded, paved and sidewalks laid, at an expense of $15,000 and will constitute the chief drive and promenade from Seattle to the Lake. It will run along the City Park, the College grounds and Lake View Park. Lots on either side will command at least four fold the price paid. The Association will erect buildings for a First Class Hotel at the east end of the Avenue on Lake Washington. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Company.

When all the lots are subscribed for the distribution will be made. The Choice of Lots, including the Hotel will be sold at public auction among the subscribers, and the proceeds be divided equally among them. Due notice of the time and place of sale will be made. Warranted deeds based on a United States patent will be issued to subscribers without charge.

Let no one doubt the future growth of Seattle. Nature has placed her in a position to realize the benefits of an immense traffic. Her port is always open, neither ice nor shifting sand bars impede navigation. No pilotage or river towage to add to her freights. Clear sailing all the year round from her harbor to the ocean. Consider the matter carefully. Think, too, what San Francisco was in 1848; what chances of a competency were lost in ignoring the future growth of that magnificent city, as thousands can attest. Chicago in 1840 was but a small town, to-day a great city, the admiration of all. Let not this opportunity slip. The small sum of $75, payable monthly without interest, may make you comfortable, and be a great benefit to your children. There can be no other investment requiring so small an amount of money that can secure such ample benefits.
